Engaging in Change - State of the University 2005
President Edward J. Ray establishes the OSU Center for Teaching and Learning with Peter Saunders as Director, October, 13th 2005.

CTL Innovation Grant
Grants awarded to projects supporting and improving teaching and student learning. The goal of this program is to recognize and reward teaching excellence and encourage instructors to engage in the creation of innovative learning experiences.

New CTL Office
CTL begins operating in Waldo 116

CTL Teaching Academy
Located in Milam 215, the Teaching Academy is used to facilitate CTL workshops and other programs.

HISTORY OF THE OSU CTL

2005
- Peter Saunders
- Peter Saunders as Director

2008
- CTL Summer Institute
- A four-day intensive course focused on developing a living syllabus, as an expansive, learning-centered, alternative to traditional syllabi.

2010
- Culminating LL Stewart Faculty Development Fund
- The L.L. Stewart Faculty Development Fund recognizes outstanding faculty at OSU and provides resources to stimulate creative advancements in teaching, research and extended education.

2011
- New Assistant Director of CTL
- New Assistant Director of CTL
- Robin Pappas

2012
- New Director of CTL
- Kay Sagmiller
- New Location
- Waldo Hall 3rd Floor

2013
- New Global Learning Initiative Coordinator
- Larry Becker

2014
- New Service Learning Faculty Development Coordinator
- Michelle Inderbitzen

Additional Events:
- Hybrid Faculty Learning Communities
- CTL Hybrid Course Initiative
- Created and facilitated by Cub Kahn
- CTL Implements Symposia
- Created and facilitated by Kay Sagmiller
- Small Group Individual Diagnostics (SGiDS)
- Newcomer Welcome Event
- Blue Minds Matter PLC
- Habits of Mind Fireside Chat
- Professional Learning Communities on LCs
- Hybrid Faculty Study Groups
- College of Education
- Teaching Triads PLC
Regan Gurung said, "Our goal is to support effective and efficient teaching and create and sustain a culture of teaching excellence."

Regan Gurung